Program Summary

The Youth Transitional Care Pilot (YTCP) program is funded by The Primary Health Network (PHN) and delivered in collaboration with Hunter New England Local Health District to provide short-term psychosocial support services for people aged 12 – 18 years, with serious mental health concerns.

YTCP Program ensures youth are better supported whilst transitioning from tertiary to primary care. The aim is to provide greater access to support services for youth living with mental health concerns in the Greater Newcastle region. The initiative will improve patient experience of discharge, improve short to medium term clinical outcomes following discharge and reduce re-admission rates within 28 days of discharge & ED presentations.

YTCP offers young people flexible hours and types of support to ensure that support meets a person's current needs. All services are provided within the context of a recovery model and in a way that empowers individuals to live in the community with self-determination and independence. As such, the program provides people with hands on, practical support in addition to facilitating and working with other supports.

Services will be provided flexibly responding to participant needs. Hours of work available are between Monday – Friday 6:00 am – 8:00 pm.

Position Summary

All Wellways services are informed by Wellways' Well Together Model, Practice Principles, Program Pathways and Recovery Frameworks.

Recovery Workers bring the Youth Transitional Care Program to life by supporting program participants throughout the lifecycle of the program. The participant journey spans referral to the program, assessment of need and action planning, receiving direct, practical support, navigating services and nurturing natural supports that sustain wellbeing. Essential to sustaining wellbeing for young people is that Recovery Workers work not just with individuals, but also with and within families and communities.

As an organisation dedicated to making a real difference in people's quality of life and equality of rights, Wellways believes our work must include effective methods to improve wellbeing and to transform our relationships, networks, communities and society to provide equal rights, opportunities and outcomes for people affected by mental illness. Recovery Workers make this a reality by:

- Ensuring people can fully participate in the community and claim their rights as citizens
- Working with families, carers, friends and kin to build the skills and resources they need as key supports, and to flourish in their own right
- Advocating for, and creating communities that actively welcome and value people with mental illness and uphold their rights as equal citizens

Recovery Workers work as part of an integrated team. An integrated team works together to ensure that support is provided continuously and seamlessly. To achieve this, Recovery Workers work collaboratively across all Wellways staff as well as other services to ensure that participants have access to the supports that they need, when they need them.

An essential part of every YTCP team member's role is the timely and accurate recording of participant information and data. Recovery Workers are responsible for daily, weekly and monthly data entry and maintaining file notes, as well as various program documentation such as assessments and plans, risk assessments, referral documentation and more.

In order to support participants accessing YTCP, Recovery Workers are required to travel within and beyond the Newcastle area.
