Organisational context

Healthy Male (formerly Andrology Australia) has a vision of a healthier life for all men and boys. We are a national organisation that provides easy access to the latest scientific and medical research on male reproductive and sexual health for the public and people working in health.

Healthy Male aims to make this information available to everybody, regardless of gender, age, education, sexual orientation, religion or ethnicity. To do this, we collaborate with Australia's leading peak bodies, researchers, specialists, clinicians and educators to develop information that fills the gaps in men's health.

As a small not for profit organisation we are proud of our cohesive team culture, our collaborations, partnerships and proactive approach to our work and our growing list of achievements.

Healthy Male is supported by the Australian Government Department of Health. More information about Healthy Male can be found at www.healthymale.org.au.

Position purpose

Reporting to the CEO, and working closely with the Medical Director, the Health Content Manager will be responsible for managing the academic and clinical publications and information of Healthy Male, in collaboration with the Marketing and Communications Manager, Health Promotion Manager and contractors, as well as contributing to research productivity by assisting with preparation and submission of manuscripts for peer-reviewed publication.

The position will be responsible for the development of content for external health professional publications, including drafting, proof-reading and editing manuscripts in collaboration with identified authors, for peer-reviewed journals.
