OUR ORGANISATION

The Victorian Aboriginal Community Services Association Limited (VACSAL) is the recognised state-wide Peak Advisory body on Aboriginal Community issues. VACSAL is a community based, community controlled organisation, comprising representatives from Koorie organisations across the State. As well as having an advisory role, VACSAL delivers and manages a range of critical community services across Victoria.

VACSAL Aboriginal Centre for Males is a key stakeholder in addressing and focussing on the issues surrounding family violence and strongly support men to commence and continue a path of healing for themselves, their families and communities. In 2005 the state government introduced reforms to the family violence service system. As a result Victoria has established an Integrated Family Violence System that enables a range of service providers to respond collaboratively to Aboriginal Men who use violence against women and families.

POSITION SUMMARY

This position provides a practical medium term case management response. The case worker will work with a small case load of high needs men and be responsible for providing intensive support and case work. The position will expect a full caseload that consists of eight clients at any one time providing intensive casework and follow up support to 20 episodes of support over a twelve-month period.

The positions will cover the Western Metropolitan area of Melbourne.

Case management is an assertive outreach service, and will involve case workers travelling to other locations and services to provide support to their client to address their barriers. This will include attending appointments to address housing, AOD and other issues.

Diversity Statement

Aboriginal culture is core to VACSAL's values and we will always be a culturally safe environment for Aboriginal peoples. We are a family of families and everybody is welcome and included.

For VACSAL, this means we embrace the diversity of our Aboriginal community and any non-Aboriginal family members of community. As cultural integrity is the cornerstone of our services, we will make all of our community feel welcome in our services regardless of their needs and identities as individuals.

We understand that not everybody will require the same approach, instead we consider their needs as an individual, as a family, as a community.
