About Wellways

Wellways Australia is a leading not-for-profit organisation dedicated to ensuring all Australians lead active and fulfilling lives in their community. We work with individuals, families and the community to help them imagine and achieve better lives. We advocate for change to make sure people can access the best possible care and information when they need it. We provide a wide range of services and assistance for people of all ages with mental health issues, disabilities, and those requiring community care.

Wellways is an equal opportunity employer that offers generous salary packaging and opportunities to undertake professional training and development. People with lived experience, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, and people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds bring highly valued skills to our workforce.

Our Values

Honesty:

- We are open and sincere in all interactions
- We show compassion and consideration to all our stakeholders
- We take responsibility for our actions

Acceptance

- We champion and respect all voices and choices
- We accept people no matter how complex their needs
- We see the person, the family and the community

Fairness:

- We believe everyone has the right to equal opportunities
- We challenge social injustice and advocate for change
- We collaborate to solve problems

Commitment:

- We are committed to our work and we won't give up
- We have the courage to make decisions and are accountable for our actions
- We dare to go down new roads and challenge accepted wisdom

Participation:

- We promote participation and transform lives and communities
- We value the expertise and contribution of everyone we work with
- We build knowledge and lead conversations

Our approach to service delivery

Our recovery services are guided by our values and informed by our Well Together Model. This approach means we work at 3 levels, with the individual, with their families and friends and with the community. Well Together recognises that developing skills, building confidence and strengthening relationships will help people to recover and to live independently. The model provides an evidence-based approach to create individually tailored, effective recovery support packages. Wellways assists individuals to develop the capacity to manage their own wellbeing, equip family and friends with information and skills, and engage community members in support networks.

Advocacy Services

We have a strong advocacy program, informed by the lived experience of people with mental health issues or disability, their families and friends. Members of Wellways play a vital role in developing our advocacy platform. We advocate for systemic change that will create better conditions and improved opportunities across the range of services and supports we offer, including people and their families living with mental health and / or disabilities, and carers.

All our recovery services and advocacy programs:

- Support and create opportunities for recovery
- Value cultural diversity
- Value peer participation and leadership (participant and carer)
- Are underpinned by evidence-based best practice

Program Summary

The Housing and Accommodation Support Initiative (HASI) and Enhanced Adult Community Living Supports (CLS) programs are NSW government funded initiatives that deliver specialist community based psychosocial support services for people aged 16 years and older, with serious mental illness.

Wellways delivers HASI and CLS in a variety of catchments across NSW. At present, we provide these services in:

- Northern NSW – HASI
- Western NSW – HASI
- Murrumbidgee – HASI and CLS
- Illawarra Shoalhaven – CLS
- Albury – HASI
- Southern NSW – HASI
- South Western Sydney – HASI

HASI and CLS services are delivered in close partnership with Local Health Districts, with a focus on coordinated and integrated care. HASI and CLS offers people flexible hours and types of support to ensure that support meets a person's current needs and goals. All services are provided within the context of a recovery model and in a way that empowers individuals to live in the community with self-determination and independence. Importantly, services are also provided within the context of a rehabilitation model where people are supported to regain, keep, or improve skills that enable independent living. As such, HASI and CLS programs provide people with hands on, practical support in addition to facilitating and working with other supports.

Support may include:

- daily living skills like self-care, shopping, looking after finances, cooking or catching public transport
- referral to mental and physical health services where needed and support with mental and physical health appointments, medication management and other treatments
- participating in social, leisure or sporting activities
- building relationships with family, friends and the local communities
- learning new skills
- accessing education or help to get a job
- help with finding and keeping housing including private or social/community housing
- moving back into the community from a hospital or a prison
- accessing other supports like alcohol and other drugs services and the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

HASI and CLS programs are underpinned by a robust focus on the experience of people who use the services, a robust minimum dataset and data collection, and routine program evaluation that demonstrates program effectiveness, accessibility and value for money.

Position Summary

All Wellways services are informed by Wellways' Well Together Model, Practice Principles, Program Pathways and Recovery Frameworks.

Rehabilitation and Recovery Workers walk alongside participants, supporting participants to identify their hopes, aspirations and goals, and work together to develop recovery plans that help participants achieve their goals.

Rehabilitation and Recovery Workers provide direct, practical support to participants that help them regain, keep, and improve skills, including self-management skills, while also supporting participants to identify and nurture natural supports that sustain recovery. Essential to sustaining natural supports is that Rehabilitation and Recovery Workers work not just with individuals, but also with families and communities.

As an organisation dedicated to making a real difference in people's quality of life and equality of rights, Wellways believes our work must include effective methods to improve wellbeing and to transform our relationships, networks, communities and society to provide equal rights, opportunities and outcomes for people affected by mental illness. Rehabilitation and Recovery Workers make this a reality by:

- Ensuring people can fully participate in the community and claim their rights as citizens
- Working with families, carers, friends and kin to build the skills and resources they need as key supports, and to flourish in their own right
- Advocating for, and creating communities that actively welcome and value people with mental illness and uphold their rights as equal citizens

Rehabilitation and Recovery Workers work as part of an integrated team. An integrated team works together to ensure that support is provided continuously and seamlessly, including at night, on weekends, on holidays and during periods of leave. To achieve this, Rehabilitation and Recovery Workers may work with Rehabilitation and Recovery Support Workers, Peer Workers, Social and Emotional Wellbeing Workers, and other services to ensure that participants have access to the supports that they need, when they need them.

An essential part of every HASI and CLS team member's role is the timely and accurate recording of participant information and data. Rehabilitation and Recovery Workers are responsible for daily, weekly and monthly data entry and maintaining file notes, as well as various program documentation such as recovery assessments and plans, risk assessments, referral documentation and more.

In order to support participants accessing Wellways Programs, Rehabilitation and Recovery Workers are required to travel across the region, including overnight stays where required.
