

Teacher in Residence

Kids in Philanthropy — Role Description

About KiP

Kids in Philanthropy (KiP) delivers structured, experiential philanthropic learning journeys for young people. Our programs build young people's knowledge of social issues, develop their capacity to take action, and create real opportunities to direct resources toward causes that matter to them.

Through KiP programs, young people explore local social issues, connect with charities, and take hands-on action — preparing essential goods like meals, care packs, hygiene products, clothing and stationery for people in need in their community.

KiP is a small but driven team. We work closely together, are passionate about what we do, and value supporting each other along the way. We operate across Victoria, New South Wales and Queensland.

Role Snapshot

Title: Teacher in Residence

Location: Queensland (hybrid — school-based delivery, with remote/flexible base when not on site)

Status: Part-time or Contractor

Term: 12-month fixed-term contract, with the possibility of extension for up to three years

Remuneration: TBC

Working hours: To be discussed; flexible arrangements can be considered for the right candidate

Role Purpose

To support the design and adaptation of KiP's philanthropic learning programs in Queensland secondary schools, embedding curriculum-aligned content that builds young people's philanthropic agency, understanding of social issues, and capacity to contribute meaningfully to their communities. This includes providing consultation and training to QLD teachers to support them to deliver service learning and philanthropic education in their classrooms.

Role Relationships

You will develop close working relationships with internal and external stakeholders, including:

- KiP CEO and Program and Engagement Manager
- Queensland school leadership teams, coordinators and classroom teachers
- KiP facilitators, volunteers and other staff

You will work directly with the KiP Program and Engagement Manager on program design, school partnerships and program quality, while exercising independent judgement in school relationships and curriculum design.

Role Responsibilities

As a member of the KiP team in support of our mission, vision and values, the responsibilities are as follows:

Curriculum Design and Adaptation

- Design and adapt KiP's program content to align with Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority (QCAA) frameworks and year-level learning objectives
- Provide consultation and training to QLD teachers to support them to deliver service learning and philanthropic education in their classrooms
- Develop age-appropriate, engaging program materials, facilitator guides, student resources and assessment tasks
- Ensure content is relevant and responsive to the social contexts, interests and prior knowledge of participating students
- Build and maintain a content library of curriculum-linked resources for Queensland delivery
- Contribute to the ongoing evolution of KiP's program model, incorporating teacher feedback, student outcomes and sector insights

In-School Program Delivery

- Lead or co-facilitate KiP program sessions in Queensland secondary schools
- Build strong, trusted relationships with school staff, coordinators and leadership teams
- Support schools to embed KiP programs within their broader curriculum and wellbeing frameworks

School Partnerships and Engagement

- Identify and nurture relationships with new and existing Queensland school partners
- Respond to school inquiries and conduct introductory conversations with prospective partners
- Gather and document teacher and student feedback to inform program improvement and reporting
- Represent KiP at relevant school, sector and community events in Queensland

Operations and Reporting

- Contribute to funder reporting and grant applications as required
- Support KiP's impact tracking and evaluation, including student and teacher surveys

There may be other responsibilities required which will be advised by the CEO and the Program and Engagement Manager.

Requirements

Kids in Philanthropy is a child safe organisation.

We require candidates to have the following:

- Experience teaching in Queensland schools at a secondary level
- Demonstrated experience designing, adapting and delivering curriculum-aligned content
- Interest in and understanding of social impact and philanthropy
- Strong relationship-building skills with students, teachers and school communities
- Ability to work independently and manage program logistics in a small-team environment

Experience in the following areas will be viewed favourably:

- Cross-curricular, project-based or service-learning programs
- The charitable and not-for-profit sector in Queensland
- Working in low-SES or regional school contexts
