The role

We are seeking an experience and motivated individual to join our Digital Services team in the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC).

As an ICT Quality Assurance Manager – Digital Governance, you will lead digital governance, assurance and control functions across the Digital Services team, ensuring risks are effectively managed, obligations are met and decision-makers have access to reliable information to support the delivery of secure, trusted and high-performing services.

You will provide strategic oversight of governance activities across change, configuration, risk, compliance, software asset management and architecture, promoting consistency, transparency and accountability across the digital environment. Through the development and oversight of governance frameworks, assurance programs and control mechanisms, you'll help ensure ACNC information assets are protected.

Applying specialised ICT governance expertise, strategic thinking and strong stakeholder engagement skills, you'll ensure security controls are effective, risks are managed appropriately, compliance obligations are met, and assurance activities support informed decision-making. Through robust, transparent and effective governance arrangements, you'll contribute to maintaining public trust in the ACNC's digital services.

Our ideal candidate

- > provides leadership and strategic oversight of digital governance, assurance and control functions across change, configuration, risk, compliance, software asset management and architectural mapping activities
- > conducts audits, reviews and assessments to evaluate compliance, control effectiveness and governance maturity against frameworks, policies, standards and regulatory obligations
- > leads and oversees assurance activities to ensure ICT services, systems and processes meet agreed quality standards and organisational requirements
- > drives continuous improvement in governance frameworks, controls and assurance practices to strengthen organisation capability, compliance and outcomes
- > builds productive relationships, providing trusted advice on ICT governance, risk, compliance and assurance matters
- > leads teams, builds capability and fosters a collaborative and accountable culture while delivering results.

These roles may be offered on an ongoing or non-ongoing basis in Melbourne CBD.

The Australian community requires the highest integrity of ACNC staff. Our ideal candidate also acts with integrity, makes ethical decisions and embodies our cultural traits and APS values.

You'll need to agree to integrity checks to work for the ACNC. This role requires a Baseline security clearance. We may conduct further integrity checks throughout your employment.

You must be an Australian citizen to work for the ACNC.

We encourage Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, culturally and linguistically diverse people and people with disability or neurodivergence to apply.

About the area

Digital Services enables ACNC to operate as a digital-first regulator by delivering secure, reliable platforms and services for staff and external users. The team manages core digital capabilities (workplace, platforms, data and service operations) and provides the foundational security, identity and assurance controls that protect ACNC information and maintain public trust.

The ICT Quality Assurance Manager provides oversight across the Digital Services portfolio, aligning strategy, priorities, investment decisions and delivery activities across our teams. Through effective governance and assurance arrangements, you will help ensure Digital Services operates as a coherent, secure and integrated whole to support ACNC objectives.

Share our passion for purpose

Joining the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC) means joining a small and dynamic regulator that supports good governance by the organisations that help the community most. We are based in Melbourne and offer attractive benefits to our diverse, passionate, friendly staff. We contribute to public trust and confidence in the charity sector through our work as the only government agency that works exclusively with charities.

Our Purpose

The ACNC is the independent, national regulator of charities in Australia.

We maintain a free online searchable register of charity information which is available to the public. The charity register helps the organisations and people that help the community such as charities, donors, philanthropists, grant-makers, researchers, and volunteers understand the work of charities.

Our work contributes to maintaining public trust and confidence in charities and supporting a thriving sector. We assess new applications for registration, provide guidance and resources to charities to promote good governance practices and assist them in meeting their obligations to remain registered. We also investigate concerns, taking action where necessary. We continue to focus on the removal of unnecessary red tape to reduce the administrative burden on charities.

We are committed to providing exceptional customer service and delivering on our objectives. Our contribution makes a difference to the Australian community, whether that's a charity directly, someone in need or a donor.

Our People

We are highly skilled specialists who are passionate about the charity sector, about making a difference and contributing to the sector through our work.

We are community focused, supportive, caring, diverse, and inclusive - reflecting the sector we serve.

We value our team as people, and the health and wellbeing of our people is a priority. Our managers are supportive and provide a safe and healthy working environment for our people.

Collectively we work hard to attract and retain talented people.

Our Culture

We are proud of the culture we have created at the ACNC.

We come together as 'One ACNC' where our people belong, we continually evolve, share a purpose, and are supported and connected. As a small agency, staff know each other by name, and we operate as one team. Staff can talk with colleagues from all levels including the leadership team on any given day. We have a range of activities on offer with an active Social Club, People Network, micro-learning sessions, and an Innovation Hour.

Our Benefits

As part of the APS, we offer secure employment and receive a competitive salary. ACNC staff are employed under the Australian Taxation Office's Enterprise Agreement which offers exceptional employment conditions including payments of 15.4% super on top of your annual salary, as well as salary sacrificing options.

In addition to standard leave provisions, we provide additional paid leave between Christmas and New Year. We can access a range of leave options including flex leave, the ability to work part time or compressed hours and generous paid parental leave. We can also purchase additional weeks of annual leave.

All staff have access to a free employee assistance program and a range of health and wellbeing support services.

We invest heavily in training for our people, including learning and development courses and access to higher education programs to grow skills and capabilities.

Our Environment

Our team of approximately 130 people is based in Melbourne's Docklands, in a modern open-plan office. You can see the person you work for and the people you work with. We have a range of spaces including collaborative meeting rooms, and quiet spaces for staff to utilise.

We operate in a hybrid working model, that provides increased flexibility and supports work-life balance with the opportunity to work from home, with innovative technology supporting this approach.

Our office is a short walk from Southern Cross Station, and there is a tram stop outside the door. We have a variety of food, coffee and conveniences all located within our precinct.

We work in a unique operating environment as a small independent regulator with access to the support, systems and infrastructure of a larger agency. We also have access to the ATO's facilities including end of trip, prayer rooms and nursing rooms. We consider this the best of both worlds!
