About Uniting

Uniting Vic.Tas is the community services organisation of the Uniting Church. We've been supporting people and families for over 100 years. We work alongside people of all ages in local communities in Victoria and Tasmania. Our services reach to Albury-Wodonga in the north, Mallacoota in East Gippsland, the Wimmera region in the west, and across Tasmania.

We empower children, young people and families to learn and thrive. We're there for people experiencing homelessness, drug and alcohol addiction or mental illness. We support people with disability to live the life they choose. We assist older people to maintain their independence and enjoy life. We provide opportunities to access training and meaningful employment. We're proud to welcome and support asylum seekers to our community. We work to empower people with the information, skills and tools they need to live a healthy, happy life.

As an organisation, we work in solidarity with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as Australia's First Peoples and as the traditional owners and custodians of this land.

We celebrate diversity and value the lived experience of people of every ethnicity, faith, age, disability, culture, language, gender identity, sex and sexual orientation. We welcome lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, gender diverse and non-binary, intersex, and queer (LGBTIQ+) people at our services. We pledge to provide inclusive and non-discriminatory services.

Our purpose: To inspire people, enliven communities and confront injustice

Our values: We are imaginative, respectful, compassionate and bold

1. The Family Services Platform and Position Information

Family Services Platform

The Family Services platform is organised around three conceptual interconnected service streams, along a continuum of need, to make services simpler to navigate, offering families a more personalised experience. These streams are:

Connecting Families is for families with emerging needs, providing brief periods of support delivered in groups, individually or combined.

Strengthening Families is for families with cumulative, escalating needs, providing in-home child and family support over a longer period.

Restoring Families is for families with significant and enduring needs, offering comprehensive, intensive and targeted in-home child and family supports.

Addendum: Restoring Families

Restoring Families Stream

The Restoring Families stream provides intensive support to families where significant concerns relating to child safety, family functioning, or wellbeing have been identified.

The primary objective of the stream is to work in partnership with families and the broader service system to:

- address identified risks,
- strengthen parenting capacity, and
- restore and maintain safe, stable family relationships wherever possible.

Services within the Restoring Families stream support families with complex needs, including those who may be involved with statutory services. Practitioners deliver targeted, structured, and coordinated interventions focused on:

- improving child safety,
- stabilising family functioning, and
- addressing the underlying factors contributing to family disruption or risk.

Practice within the stream is grounded in strengths-based, trauma-informed, and culturally responsive approaches. Practitioners work collaboratively with families, statutory services, and other professionals to:

- establish clear and achievable goals,
- implement practical strategies to reduce risk, and
- build family capability to safely care for children.

The Restoring Families stream plays a critical role within the broader service system by supporting families to address complex challenges, enhance child safety and wellbeing, and, where possible, restore or sustain safe family relationships and stability.
