Good Shepherd Australia New Zealand (GSANZ)

Our 2023–2027 strategy outlines the world we want to see and our role in advancing it. We aspire for all women, girls, and families to be safe, well, strong, and connected. We strive for equity, dignity and social justice for women, girls and families by collaborating globally and acting locally, supporting our communities in Australia and New Zealand to thrive.

We want women, girls and families to live full and dignified lives, have dignified income and enjoy financial wellbeing. We aim to provide place-based, people-centred, holistic services while working at the system level to achieve bold and audacious reform. We currently offer microfinance programs and products, financial counselling and coaching, family and domestic violence support services, family and youth programs, playgroups, education programs and community houses. These services are complemented by research and strong advocacy to address the underlying structural causes of injustice, exclusion, and inequality.

Good Shepherd employees are committed to inclusive practice that responds to the specific needs, context, and circumstances of service participants. We embrace the diversity and intersectionality of individuals and recognise a person's right to a unique identity comprising culture, language, ability, community, gender, sex, sexual orientation and lived experience.

Role Purpose

The Financial Independence Hub (FIH) supports people who are seeking financial wellbeing and recovery who have experienced financial abuse. The Financial Wellbeing Coach provides crucial support to individuals who have experienced financial abuse and other forms of financial control, as part of their recovery journey. This role involves offering personalized financial coaching, guiding victims of family violence through financial challenges, and helping them regain financial independence, stability, and confidence. The coach will work collaboratively with other community services, legal professionals, and other support teams to create a comprehensive recovery plan tailored to each individual's needs.

The FIH service model will operate a hub-and-spoke outreach that enables integrated and embedded service delivery in areas of greatest impact. As part of the impact-oriented team, you will support the efficient and effective delivery of both human-facing service delivery in the designated locations of high need, and virtually as part of the national team supporting clients from across Australia.

Key Responsibilities

- Coordinate and deliver one-on-one financial coaching to build financial wellbeing and protect participants' finances from further abuse.
- Use participant-directed practices that show respect for the expertise of people with lived experience of financial abuse.
- Explore goal-setting with a confidence-building and behavioural change approach in conjunction with skills and knowledge strengthening.
- With participants, develop a personalised financial roadmap that defines their goals, and identifies the actions to achieve the goals. Act as an accountability partner to review progress.
- Deliver services in a modality and from a location that meets the needs of the participant. This may include by phone, video, or in person, and engaging services such as interpreters.
- Facilitate a range of community engagement activities with organizations and community to increase the physical presence and visibility of FIH in priority areas including Perth
- Recognise financial risk factors and, in collaboration with the FIH Practitioner, facilitate referrals to specialised financial service providers such as financial counsellors, financial planners, and community legal services. Attend these meetings as required.
- Facilitate exploratory coaching conversations with participants to establish their needs and eligibility for funding/loans to support their financial independence goals. This may include the no interest loan product.
- Lead conversations through a trauma-informed and strengths based lens.
- Link client in with other services internally and externally to GSANZ to ensure a holistic service response.
- Prepare reports and other written documentation such as minutes, housing, and funding applications, correspondence etc. to meet professional standards.
- Contribute to the promotion of FIH including delivering FIH presentations, workshops and webinars remotely and in person.
- Facilitating Financial Wellbeing Groups to victim survivors of financial abuse
- Ensure high quality, accurate record keeping.
- Ensure that consultation with other services complies with privacy, consent and information sharing requirements.
- Use culturally sensitive practice. Adapt practice to support the diverse needs, background and identity of each individual respectfully and professionally.
- Demonstrate a compliance to the Child Safe Standards.
- Perform other duties as required.
